

SPUR

SPUR is a 6-month virtual residency to support the next generation of young artists, open to current final year graduating students. SPUR will provide a supportive network through online workshops, peer-to-peer learning and exchange. Participants will interact online through a bespoke digital platform where they can chat, share work and create new digital personas and collective expressions.

The artwork developed during the 6-month programme will form a collective exhibition on a virtual platform specifically developed for the project, supported by a network of art spaces across the UK, including London, Nottingham and Bristol.

Selected artists will benefit from:

- The opportunity to rethink individual practices due to the current crisis
- Become part of a digital collective, to reimagine your future artmaking
- Working together to collaboratively learn new skills through tailored workshops
- Supportive network of artists, curators and organisations
- Introductions to arts communities in cities across the UK through online intros and physical visits

Digital Collective:

Omsk Social Club will be working with the participants to build a working fictive network which will allow the participants to explore uncharted processes of both art-making exercises of co-creation, commitment and imagineering. Participants will be encouraged to use self-built avatars rather than their existing identities, to find new modes of thinking and creating.

Digital Platform:

Built by Multimodal, designed by Omsk Social Club.

Supported using public funding by
ARTS COUNCIL
ENGLAND
